Artist's Statement

My work seeks to capture the emotional and physical implications of being nude in settings that are challenging and not without risk. I care as much about what a woman's face tells us about the experience as I do about her form and I hope that it shows in these images. Whether the images were created in studios or outdoors in my favorite places – my earliest partners in making beautiful images taught me to "let it come naturally." I do not "pose" the women with whom I am privileged to work. I show them the place and the direction of the light, put some Vivaldi on the player and ask my partners to be who they want to be in the moment we are at. In the instants before and after they come to that point, that is when their true feelings are exposed and their beauty and emotions the most natural.

Prints of most of my work are available through my website or you may contact me for custom printing or to schedule a photographic session at sam.david.photo@gmail.com. My website address is: www.samdavidphotography.com

Enjoy my work. Let it come naturally.

Portfolio Statement

I am not comfortable working in studios. I prefer the wildness and freedom of nature. Most of the women with whom I work feel the same way. I find the dimensions of a studio limiting, the proximity to these women frankly unnerving. The women feel much the same – their being so close to the lens an exposure uncomfortable beyond that of their nudity. Together we experience this breakdown of our defenses, face who each of us are in that moment and produce images startling in their intensity, their complexity and the beauty of their realism. Precious are the women who do this work with me, and precious are their images, captured here in the precious tones of platinum and silver. Enjoy these images and share the experience with us.
